CITY CAN'T GET BIDS FOR PAVING

ONLY ONE FIRM SUBMITTED OFFER LAST NIGHT.

BELIEVE PAVERS FEAR LOSS ON FIFTH STREET

Wabash Fight On Dunn Improvement and Postoffice Exemption Makes Contractors Wary.

The nineteen blocks of paving which the city has to award this spring does not appear to be the drawing card it was at first believed to be, judging from results so far. Twice have bids been called for, and each time the consideration of the proposition has had to be deferred on account of lack of bids. Last night it was that way.

The city council met in adjourned session last night especially to consider paving bids, only to find that only one bid was presented, and that for only part of the improvement planned. It was submitted by the Metropolitan Paving company of St. Joseph by Mr. Davis, representative. The lone bid included everything except on Fifth from Market to Dunn, seven blocks, and Dunn a half block.

Try Again June 18.

So the council decided to further postpone the matter until Friday night, June 18, to consider bids to be submitted on or before 7:30 o'clock that night. A greater effort to get bids will be made this time, both by advertising in local and construction and paving material journals, and also through individual solicitation if necessary.

Several reasons have been advanced for the failure of construction and paving companies to place bids for the Maryville paving. One is that the paving contractors have agreed to hold up the matter here until they complete work of a similar nature elsewhere, as the local contracts will specify that work must begin within thirty days after the contract is awarded.

But aside from that, no reason can be advanced for their failure to submit bids for the paving proposed on the various streets excepting on Fifth street. Two legal obstacles are brought up there as an excuse for the lack of interest shown by the pavers.

Who Pays Fronting Postoffice?
The St. Joseph firm which bid on all but that street last night, refused to place a bid for Fifth street, because no provision has been made for the improvement in front of the postoffice, it is said. The government is exempt from such expense.

Some provision will probably be made for eliminating that obstacle before June 18, when new bids are called for. How this will be done no city official could explain this morning.

Another obstacle on Fifth street is brought about by the fight the Wabash railroad made to block the improvement on the grounds that that portion of Dunn street between Fifth and Normal avenue included in the Fifth street paving ordinance is owned by the Wabash, and therefore is private property. It is believed pavers fear that the Wabash would try to evade payment for their part of the improvement, and therefore cause court litigation to collect the tax.

Would Pave Block on Jenkins.

A further move towards paving, however, was made when a resolution to pave Jenkins streets from Main to Market street, a distance of one block, was adopted by the council, and an ordinance passed to bring that block to an established grade.

If not more than a majority of the property owners on that block oppose, a bill will be later passed to assure the paving on that block. The improvement is especially urged by the trustees of the First Baptist church.

REMINDS NORMAL HEAD OF PAST.

Students Present President Richardson With Stool from Carved School Desks.

A happy reminder of his early school days in Mound City was presented to President Ira Richardson of the State Normal school in general convocation of students yesterday morning by S. W. Skelton and W. A. Powers, students in manual training. The presentation speech was made by Dean G. H. Colbert, to which President Richardson responded.

The gift was a footstool made from parts of a school desk at which President Richardson is said to have sat during his school days in the Mound City schools. The best of it all is that many of the carvings made by President Richardson with his pocket knife are still intact in the foot stool.

The old seat was recovered by Skelton when the old school building there was recently torn down to make way for the newly constructed building. President Richardson graduated from the high school there in 1891.

QUITS CABINET IN DISAGREEMENT OVER NOTE TO GERMANY.

LANSING TAKES PLACE

Chief Counselor Succeeds Nebraska Peace Exponent Temporarily—Wanted Arbitration Clause.

Washington, June 9.—William Jennings Bryan, three times Democratic candidate for the presidency of the United States and author of nearly thirty peace treaties with the principal nations of the world, returned to private life, his resignation as secretary of state taking effect today. His resignation came as a dramatic sequel to his disagreement with President Wilson over the government's policy toward Germany, and was accepted by the president.

The cabinet then approved the response which had been prepared to the German reply to the Lusitania note. Robert Lansing, counselor of the state department, who automatically became acting secretary of state, signed the document and it will be cabled to Berlin today.

It was learned that Mr. Bryan intends to continue his political support of the president. Rather than sign the document, which he believed might possibly draw the United States into the war, Mr. Bryan submitted his resignation in a letter declaring that "the issue involved is of such moment that to remain a member of the cabinet would be as unfair to you as it would be to the cause which is nearest my heart, namely, the prevention of war."

The president accepted the resignation in a letter of regret, lined with deep personal feelings of affection. Comes Dramatically.

Dramatically the official relations of Mr. Bryan with the administration of the man whose nomination he assisted so materially in bringing about at the Baltimore convention of 1912 came to an end. It caused a sensation in the national capital scarcely paralleled in recent years. Ambassadors, ministers and diplomats of every rank and station interpreted variously its effects on the delicate situation that had arisen between Germany and the United States. The resignation of the staunchest advocate of peace in the president's official family spread broadcast the belief that the policy of the United States definitely determined upon would assert and defend the rights of the United States in any eventuality that might arise.

Originally it was the intention of the president and Mr. Bryan to have the announcement of the resignation made simultaneously with the dispatch of the note to Germany, but when Mr. Bryan did not attend the cabinet meeting until President Wilson sent for him, rumors that the president had been unable to bring the secretary of state to his point of view filled the air. Finally the news leaked out and was confirmed.

The following is the text of Secretary Bryan's letter of resignation and that of President Wilson accepting it:

My Dear Mr. President—It is with sincere regret that I have reached the conclusion that I should return to you the commission of secretary of state, with which you honored me at the beginning of your administration. "Obedient to your sense of duty and actuated by the highest motives you have prepared for transmission to the German government a note in which I cannot join without violating what I deem to be an obligation to my country and the issue involved is of such moment that to remain a member of the cabinet would be as unfair to you as it would be to the cause which is nearest my heart, namely, the prevention of war."

"I therefore respectfully tender my resignation, to take effect when the note is sent, unless you prefer an earlier hour. Alike desirous of reaching a peaceful solution of the problems arising out of the use of submarines against merchantmen we find ourselves differing irreconcilably as to the methods which should be employed. "It falls to your lot to speak officially for the nation; I consider it to be nonetheless my duty to endeavor as a private citizen to promote the end which you have in view by means which you do not feel at liberty to use. "In severing the intimate and pleasant relations which have existed between us during the last two years, permit me to acknowledge the profound satisfaction which it has given me to be associated with you in the important work which has come before the state department and to thank you for the courtesies extended. "With the heartiest good wishes for your personal welfare and for the success of your administration, I am, my dear Mr. President, very truly yours, "W. J. BRYAN."

Wilson to Bryan.

"I accept your resignation only because you feel upon its acceptance."

NEW PAVING LAW IN SOON.

State Act Gives Cities Under 30,000 With Special Charters More Power.

The new paving law which applies to cities under special charter with a population of 30,000 or under, which was passed by the last legislature and approved March 23, will go into effect Saturday, June 19.

This gives cities of that size under special charter the right to order in paving where a connection can be made between two paved streets. In many instances those who favor paving on these streets are unable to get the required number of signers to the petition asking the council to order the paving and this new law was enacted to do away with this as the council can order in paving, providing the members of the council deem it necessary.

FARMER, BUSY MAN

RAINS DID MUCH GOOD, BUT DELAYED FARM WORK

WHEAT OUTLOOK GOOD

Pests How to Deluge and Heads Are Well Filled—Good Stands of Corn Pastures Prolific.

You can't find busier persons just now than the farmer, his wife and son and daughter.

Held back earlier in the spring by a delayed arrival of warm, growing weather, and then just recently by the continued rains, the farmer and his whole family must knuckle down to the grindstone now with a redoubled effort and try to "catch up."

And everything is looking good along the highways just now. The earlier fear of chinch bugs and Hessian flies in the wheat has been downed, and the outlook at present in Nodaway county is for a good yield of wheat. The rains delayed farm work considerably and did some damage otherwise, but it was a blessing in disguise in many ways.

Wheat Pests Give Up.

The chinch bug strangled to death in the deluge and the prosperity and happiness of the Hessian fly was diminished to a remarkable degree.

The pastures are the best ever, though somewhat tender and "juicy," as a result of the extended rains. The grass is now getting nutritious and stock of all kinds is doing well, farmers in town today report. With the many rains, too, the subsoil for several feet down will be thoroughly soaked, so that should dry weather come later in the season the grass can grow on, getting nourishment from the stored up moisture below.

Many farmers were surprised, too, to discover after the deluge that the newly planted corn was not hurt so bad after all. The fear that rivulets would be cut down every row and the corn washed out, was groundless to a degree, though some was washed.

Get Good Stand of Corn.

Little corn rotted in the ground either, farmers here today say. Of course a percentage, but small, did rot as a result of the damp, chilly weather this spring, but that was to be expected. A good stand was secured most places.

The farmers now are getting into the corn fields with the "go-devil" and cultivator and some have had the second plowing already. Few really weedy fields are to be seen in a drive over the county.

Wheat will be ready for the harvest the latter part of the month, and the first of July, according to indications now. It will be quite stocky and the heads will contain more than the usual number of meshes, it is believed.

The peach crop will be small probably this year, in most orchards of Nodaway county, but not so with cherries, strawberries, blackberries and raspberries, nor apples, plums nor grapes. In fact all species of fruit will be plentiful except peaches, it is believed.

The red cherries are now seen every where, both in town and country and the luscious strawberry is lying still thick on the vines, very little damaged by the constant rains.

Horace Leet went to Bedford, Ia., this morning on a few days' business trip.

Green, pastor, and other leaders in the community. The principal speaker will be C. D. Morris of St. Joseph, editor of the Gazette and a leader in civic movements.

EXPECT CLOSE GAME TODAY

Expect Good Normal-Conception Match This Afternoon—Visitors Bring Rooters—The Line-Up.

The base ball game to start at the Normal grounds at 4 o'clock this afternoon between the Normal and Conception college is expected to be a close one, according to Coach Walter Hanson. The visitors arrived at about 3 o'clock this afternoon by automobiles and brought a bunch of rooters.

The team is considerably stronger than in the early part of the season, it is said. It is managed by A. B. Lahmen.

The Normal players are intending to put up a good fight for the honors this afternoon. The line-up was announced as follows: Lonnie Adams, p; "Doc" Miller, c; Powell, 1b; Vaughn, 2b; Alvey, 3b; Ed Adams, ss; Vandersloot, lf; probably Campbell, cf; Samuel Long, rf.

Some of the players for today's game have had little training this season, as they take the place of the student players who left for the summer.

TWO FINISH BUSINESS COURSE.

Miss Gene Marie Aley of this city and Miss Irene Elizabeth Growney of Conception finished the work this year in the business department of St. Patrick's parish school and will be graduated from that division at the annual commencement exercises to be held tonight at St. Patrick's church. The Federals, formerly the All-Stars, will play the Hopkins base ball team at Federal park, west of the city limits, next Sunday afternoon, beginning at 3 o'clock, according to announcement made today by Cleve Funk, manager. It was originally intended to bring the Athletics of St. Joseph here.

The Hopkins nine is a strong one this year and defeated the All Stars at Hopkins recently, and Creston, Ia., last Sunday by a close score. It is directed by Prof. A. C. Thomas, an expert player who tried out with the Western league last season. A brother, "Frosty" Thomas, played with St. Joseph Western league team last year.

The Federals plan to materially strengthen their team before Sunday. Frank Ham will pitch as usual, while Delma Carmichael will receive. Charles Carmichael has been signed for outfield work this season. He will likely play in the left garden Sunday.

THE WEATHER

Partly cloudy with probably showers tonight or Thursday; rising temperature.

MANY ON GUINEA DAY BOOSTER TRIP

FORTY FIVE WIRES TOUR EAST SIDE OF COUNTY TODAY.

SOLICIT PATRONAGE OF FARMERS ON WAY

Enthusiasts Stop Enroute to Get Acquainted and Advertise Special Sales June 16.

With the band playing and every body rooting for Maryville, a delegation of about forty boosters in fourteen automobiles rolled out of the city at 10 o'clock this morning on a swing around the east half of Nodaway county to advertise Guinea day here Wednesday, June 16. Optimism and enthusiasm reigned supreme and each appeared wide awake to the cause for which he is going.

The tourists were led by Theo Robinson, pilot, in his roadster, followed by several cars containing the members of the Maryville Commercial band. The first stop was made at Pickering, where the boosters were given a royal welcome and each used every moment in shaking hands and getting acquainted.

From there the tourists went to Hopkins, where luncheon was served, and thence began the swing to the east and south, taking in succession Gaynor City, Orsburg, Parnell, Ravenwood, Clyde, Conception, Conception Junction, Guilford, Barnard, Arkoe, and then home.

Some Join Them Enroute.

The tourists were joined at Parnell by J. P. Hull, Judge W. C. Ellison and party and James A. Ford and party. At Conception, C. C. Hellmers joined in and several cars were added enroute, they being persons living in the towns through which the tourists passed.

Fairly good roads were found this morning on the north and northeast circuit. A few mud holes and rough spots were encountered, of course, but on the whole the cars sped along nicely.

Besides making the acquaintance of the townspeople on the trip, many farm houses along the way were visited by parties in one or more cars and the publicity for Guinea day was plentifully supplied by both voice and bulletins and posters.

Each of the automobiles used on the trip are posted with banners and each is numbered.

The first accident of the trip was encountered by Marve Peery and Nat Sisson, when their car broke down five miles north of town, and had not joined them when the bunch reached Hopkins.

Much boosting was done in Pickering and Hopkins and likewise fun and comedy were inserted in some profession. At Pickering the jokers grabbed Mayor Wright and placed him in jail, until the trip was resumed from there. The boosters arrived at Hopkins shortly before noon and took dinner at Parnell, slightly behind the schedule time.

These Made Up "Special."

The following persons made up the "boosters' special" when it left the station in front of the Commercial club rooms at 10 o'clock this morning. Just an hour behind schedule: Dr. James Felix, Theo Robinson and Homer Shipp, in Robinson's roadster, E. C. Curfman, J. H. Gray, Blanche Gray and Hazel Vandervoort; M. A. Peery and Nat Sisson in a roadster; Dr. K. R. Malotte and F. R. Marcell in Dr. Malotte's roadster; Thad Wilderman and family in Wilderman's car; John Behm with portion of band; Mayor U. S. Wright, Sheriff Edwin Wallace, Chief of Police E. C. Moberly, Roy White and Mayor Wright's son in the mayor's car; Frank Barmann, George Conrad and family; Louis DeHart and W. R. Jackson in DeHart's roadster; William Everhart and family; Ed Gray, Peter Dietz, Bert Raines, Dick Hotchkiss and Gus Athans.

The following members of the band accompanied the boosters: T. B. Maulding, director; Seph Clark, Harold Maulding, Arch Webber, Marlon Minter, Paul Basford, Ed Rea, N. A. Williamson and Prof. Jones with the Chase-Lister band.

The second trip in advertising Guinea day here June 16, and also to get acquainted with the patrons of the county, will be taken tomorrow to the west side of the county. It will include the following towns in order: Wilcox, Clearmont, Elmo, Dawson, Burlington Junction, Quitman, Skidmore, Matland, Graham and then home. Dinner will probably be taken at Burlington Junction.

In No Hurry to Name Successor.

Robert Lansing, successor to John Bassett Moore as counselor of the state department, became secretary of state at interim today, when Secretary Bryan's resignation took effect.
He is a life-long Democrat and son-in-
law of J. W. Foster, who was secretary of state under President Harnison. He has been an international lawyer for many years.

While there is much gossip already
as to President Wilson's probable selection for the secretaryship, it is the
president's plan to make no immediate appointment. It would not be surprising if he made no change in the present status of the department's
personnel for two or three months.

Secretary Franklin K. Lane of the interior department has been frequently mentioned as a possible successor to Secretary Bryan, but the belief exists that he will not be chosen on account of his Canadian birth and
the fact that the president would find considerable difficulty in finding a man to take over Mr. Lane's important work on the Alaskan railway and other projects of the interior.

Expert Advice For the Automobile Owner

Queries and Replies Covering Matters of Importance to the Man Who Runs a Car

How will incorrect wiring affect a motor?

The effect of incorrect wiring on the motor depends on how the wires are misplaced. For instance, if the high tension cables were changed around so
that no one of them went to the right
plug it would be impossible to run the motor, although an occasional explosion might be obtained. If two or three of the high tension wires were interchanged, but one or more were
left on the correct plugs, then the
motor would run on the cylinders in which the latter were. Where a dual system is employed the wires of a battery system may sometimes be misplaced without interfering with the operation of the magneto and vice versa. As a rule, however, the changing of the wires will result in the whole ignition system becoming inoperative.

Does an engine deliver more or less
power to wheels with a friction transmission and chain drive than through
the ordinary bevel gears?

The efficiencies of the sliding gear
set with the shaft drive and the friction transmission with chain drive are approximately equal on the higher
gear ratios, but when the friction
wheel is brought near the center of
the disk the slippage of the inside
edge of the wheel, due to the small
circle it is traveling on, causes a power loss that is greater than when the
low gear of the sliding gear set is engaged.

Assuming that an automobile stands
in a garage 80 per cent out of each twenty-four hours, what would be the
saving in casing expense providing the
car was put on jacks and kept off the
tires during the time it was not in use?

The amount of money you might
save by jacking up the wheels when
the car is not in use is too small to be measured, providing there is no oil or
water on the garage floor that might cause the rubber to deteriorate. The reduction in pressure and consequent lessened strain on the casings when this is done is almost infinitesimal, although it is popularly supposed that
relieving the tires from the burden of supporting the car must necessarily relieve them from just that much strain and that therefore they will
wear longer if the car is jacked up.
The reduction in pressure when this is
done is exactly inversely proportional
to the increase in volume of the tube.
When the tire is supporting the car
weight it flattens slightly and one
might say, imperceptibly, if the tires
are pumped up as hard as they should
be. The flattening of the tire causes a small decrease in the volume of the air
in the tube and therefore when the tire
is raised off the ground it regains its normal shape and normal volume. It is obvious that this small change in volume will not affect the pressure to
any extent, since the decrease in pressure is inversely proportional to the increase in volume. And since the decrease in pressure is almost incommensurable the lessened strain and
consequent saving in tire cost is incalculable.

Is there any good preparation for polishing the body of an automobile which
will not harm the varnish or paint?

It is not advisable to use polish of any sort on the body. If the finish has become dull have the body revarnished.
The only rejuvenator worthy of consideration is soap and water, and some body makers condemn the soap, advising the use of water only. However,
there is little harm in using lukewarm
water and soap, provided the soap is not too strong. In cleaning the body
first wash the dust off with a hose and
do not apply a sponge or cloth until
the dust has been removed and the mud softened. Then sponge the body
with soap and water and finally rinse
with a hose until the soapy water has been entirely removed. Then wipe dry with chamois. If this advice is followed there will be no need of using
any body polish, as the varnish will hold its luster almost indefinitely.

The brake on my car has been dragging for some time. Will this cause
the tire to wear more rapidly?

Inasmuch as the dragging brake re-
tards the free movement of the wheel,
the tire is made to wear out more quickly than normally. Especially is this so when the brake is applied. The principal detriment, however, lies in
the increased work imposed on the
motor, which causes it to heat quickly.

Our car has a unit power plant using one grade of oil for crank case, multiple disk clutch and gear set. The oil system is circulating splash with pump. Can we use graphite in our power plant? If so, how much graphite to the gallon of cylinder oil, and what make?

Use one teaspoonful of flake graphite
to each quart of oil. Do not throw
the graphite in loose, but mix it into
a soft paste first and then add it to the
oil. In buying the graphite be careful to obtain a good motor graphite as
some graphites are not suited for motor lubrication. Some are too coarse,
others too fine and some contain grit.
Therefore, be certain you obtain a good
motor graphite.

"America."

The air of "America," as is well known, is that of England's national anthem. "God Save the King." As such it has been in use since the middle of the last century.

In 1832 Dr. S. F. Smith came upon
it in a book of German music and on
the spur of the moment wrote the
words we sing to the hymn "Ameri-

was sung for the first time publicly at

Mrs. Cecile Storr, said to be of un-

Storr, a student at Conception college,
Conception, who walked 1,000 miles,
alone and unaided, to visit her son,
was in Maryville today, accompanied
by the son, to appeal to the county
court for free return transportation.
The visit was futile, however, as the
county court is making a bridge tour
today.

The first notice the county court had
of the alleged mental condition of Mrs.
Storr was in April, when the son
asked that the court send her to some institution. She is 59 years old. The court declares she is not a bona fide

She is said to have walked from

and now wants railroad fare back to Seattle.

SUGGESTIONS FOR ROAD DAYS

What Highway Engineer Buffum Advises Road Overseers to Do on June 15 and 16.

Pictures of good roads in Missouri
have been sent to movie picture theaters in all parts of the state by Highway Commissioner Frank W. Buffum
with the request that they be used
this week to advertise the importance
of organization and preparation for the two good road days, June 15 and 16 says the St. Louis Republic.

In a letter sent to overseers and other road officials Commissioner Buffum urges that the utmost publicity be given to the movement.

"The success of good roads days,"
he says, "has been shown in the past
to have been secured through proper publicity. Publicity should be given this week and next week in all the newspapers."

"It also would be advisable to have
large posters put up over your district. Further, see that the matter is urged by the clergy in all the churches.
Good roads days mean much to
churches and schools."

Here are a few things Commissioner
Buffum suggests that the overseers
and the committee should look after
particularly:

Widen roads to at least the standard
width of 40 feet. Get the people along narrow roads to permit fences being
moved back.

Cut all hedges to the legal height of
five feet and remove all obstructions 150 feet on either approach to a turn
in the road.

Concrete culverts should not be less
than 20 feet in length, and where concrete is not available put in permanent culverts of other material.

Grade roads for gravel or stone
for dragging.

Fill in the deep side ditches on road.

Grade down all small hills.

Clean out all the side ditches on the roads so they will drain and not overflow, and throw the water in the center of the road after a big rain.

All loose rock should be removed from the roads and hills and throw
into holes or other places.

Water breaks are not often necessary, for a road well rounded does not need them. If local conditions do require they be put in and where they applies they should be made with gradual slope at least 10 feet in width
on the top, making them easier to cross
and not so dangerous to traffic.

Reduce grades on hills as much as possible. It is better to go around the hills wherever possible.

Commissioner Buffum further suggests that every piece of road building
machinery should be overhauled and
put in first class order for the two days.

If wheat harvest should be in progress on the days set for the road work
he suggests that the people postpone
the road work until about the middle
of July, but not to do so unless it is imperative to do so, as the highway department would like to have the work done as much as possible on the
two days selected by the governor.
He concludes with this advice:

"Work on the automobilist. He is always interested in good roads, but
the farmer is the man we are really
aiming to help."

A Recent U. S. Government Report Makes plain your need of

UNITED STATES CREAM SEPARATOR

The skimming device of which is GUARANTEED
NEVER TO RUST

The scientific staff of the dairy division in the United States Department of Agriculture recently conducted a series of experiments to learn what effect, if
any, iron (rust) has on cream and butter.

The tests definitely established the fact that even minute
particles of iron (rust) caused certain undesirable flavors
and that in every instance when butter was scored a few days after the making, the samples in which iron (rust) was present scored lower than the butter
made from cream which contained no
iron (rust).

In using the United States Cream Separator
with non-rusting skimming sections of nickel silver
you avoid all risk of cream or butter with an "off" odor or flavor. The U. S. Sections are positively guaranteed never to rust. No other separator manufacturer gives you a printed non-rusting
guarantee.

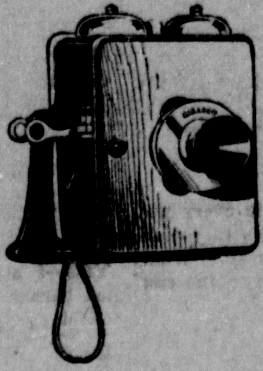

Yet, United States Cream Separators with this
big exclusive improvement are sold at no higher price than other separators without it.

Drop into our store and see this splendid Separator.

RODE FOR LIBERTY
LIKE PAUL REVERE

Caesar Rodney Is One of America's Independence Day Heroes.

HOW the historians and roman poets have missed the true and dramatic story of Caesar Rodney's ride is one of the mysteries which surround the Declaration of Independence.

Thomas McKean, one of the three signers of the Declaration from Delaware, has given unassailable proof of the essential facts in the case of Caesar Rodney and his ride. According to letters written by him and particularly one to Caesar Rodney's nephew, McKean sent word by a horseman to Rodney, who was then ill at Byfield, one of his farms near Dover, Del., that his vote was absolutely necessary if freedom was to be proclaimed.

Pennsylvania and South Carolina had voted against independence. New York held aloof because her delegates had not received instructions from the assembly of that colony. Congress was in turmoil, the army panic stricken, the sentiment for submission to Great Britain growing stronger hourly in all the colonies. It was necessary that all the colonies should vote in the affirmative if independence was to be proclaimed.

In the vote that was taken in the statehouse (now Independence hall) on July 1 Delaware's vote was not cast, there being two of the three delegates present. Thomas McKean voted for freedom and George Read against it. Caesar Rodney, as has been said, was ill in his home. His affliction was a cancer, that had attacked his face to such an extent that he was compelled to wear a veil to conceal the fearful ravages of the disease. For this reason he had never married. The malady had progressed for four years at the time of these occurrences.

McKean, shrewdly calculating that if Delaware's vote were cast for independence on the following day Pennsylvania and South Carolina might be induced to change their decisions, determined upon the desperate expedient of sending for his sick and cruelly disabled colleague. Estimating at its true worth the patriotism and determination of Rodney, he instructed the messenger to arrange at his (McKean's) expense relays of horses to carry Rodney on his ride of seventy miles.

In spite of the terrific heat, the urging of relatives and the command of a nurse and a physician, who warned him the task might mean death, the patriotic Delawarean arose from his sickbed and set out for Philadelphia with the messenger. So eager and determined was he that his companion was soon left behind, and Rodney rode alone through the torture of that blistering July weather.

McKean relates that he met Rodney at the statehouse door as he dismounted and assisted him into the chamber. There, with the remnant of his strength, Caesar Rodney cast the vote of Delaware for independence.

It is McKean again, corroborated by Adams, Franklin and others, who relates that Edward Rutledge of South Carolina thereupon was deeply moved and changed the vote of his colony. After a stormy scene the Pennsylvania delegates who were opposed to the resolution declaring liberty removed themselves from the congress, and the patriotic faction, with Benjamin Franklin at its head, promptly cast the colony's ballot for independence.

The terrible strain of the ride told severely for a time upon Caesar Rodney, but he rallied and lived a few years longer, dying at Byfield in 1784 a serene, courageous death in his forty-sixth year.

Of all the signers of the Declaration Caesar Rodney is the only one of whom there is no portrait. The late Thomas F. Bayard of Delaware, United States senator and secretary of state, was one of those who held the opinion that a portrait showing his veiled face would appeal strongly to the patriotism of the American people.

John Adams has given an excellent description of Rodney in one of his letters to his wife. He shows the patriot as tall and excessively thin, due to the malady that killed him. His head, according to Adams, was abnormally small, scarcely larger than two big apples. His manner was gentle and kindly, but deeply impressive when he was aroused. He looked upon death cheerfully, walking with it always. His patriotism was of the highest quality and his statesmanship remarkable for its plain, homely sense.—Philadelphia Press.

Dixie Turning to Fireworks.

The most notable feature of the fireworks business, dealers say, has been the creation of a demand in recent years for fireworks in the south for use on July 4. The fact that the south is beginning to take up in the conventional way the celebration of the nation's birth points very strongly, they believe, to the undermining of the last sectional differences. The demand this year has been far larger than ever before, they say. One northern fireworks firm recently received its first order from Florida, while another has been shipping large quantities to North Carolina and other southern states. Heretofore Christmas and New Year's have been the "noisy" days of the south. Baltimore always celebrated with fireworks, but not very vigorously, and across the Potomac the Fourth of July was as serene and noiseless as any other day.

ADVERTISING is today the mightiest factor in the business world. It is an evolution of modern industrial competition. It is a business builder, with a potency that goes beyond human desire. It is something more than a "drummer" knocking at the door of the consumer—something more than mere salesmanship-on-paper. It is a positive, creative force in business. It builds factories, sky-scrapers and railroads. It makes two blades of grass grow in the business world where only one grew before. It multiplies human wants and intensifies human desires. It furnishes excuse to timorous and hesitating ones for possessing the things which under former conditions they could easily get along without. Better begin to advertise at once. Every day of waiting is a day wasted.

Who Wins In The War?

The stupendous destructions of property and the loss of life in this greatest of wars fairly staggers the imagination. Master minds that were once turned to the finest of commercial development now are used in engineering the death campaigns.

Advertising, the most powerful of business builders, is now even used in the business of war. Soldiers are called into fighting ranks by advertising. Warring nations advocate their principle to the neutral nations by advertising and the people are trained to greater national spirit through advertising.

Just the same as in peace advertising accomplishes powerful results. It is helping nations to greater efforts in the war. It may even help them to win. Who wins in the war? This is not of the most vital concern to us.

Our own businesses growing stronger through new demands require our attention. Our own work goes on. It must go on.

Advertising, a powerful weapon of business and even of war, is our ally. Let's use it in building our businesses.

WAR SUMMARY

Although there has been fighting at various points along the western line, it is still in the east that the great conflict continues. In the Galician sector the Austro-Germans are keeping up their drive of the Russians eastward. Advancing from Przemyśl the German general, Von Linsingen, forces now have reached Lubaczow, which lies forty miles northeast of the recaptured Austrian fortress, while other Teuton armies have made additional advances south of the Dniester and along the Pruth.

London, June 9.—The difficulty of filling the office of lord chancellor of Ireland has not yet been overcome. The Unionists urge the appointment of James H. M. Campbell, Unionist member of the house of commons, for the chancellorship of Dublin university, but the Nationalists strongly oppose this on account of Mr. Campbell's Ulster sympathies.

The Nationalists passed a resolution, on the motion of John Dillon, declaring against conscription. The resolution stated that compulsory military service is needless and that an attempt to enforce it would break up the unity of the United Kingdom.

The cabinet met to consider the situation, but apparently no decision was arrived at. It is rumored that if the appointment of Mr. Campbell is withdrawn, as a result of Nationalist threats, Sir Edward Carson will resign as attorney general and that perhaps other members of the new coalition ministry will give up their portfolios.

The Nationalist contention is that the coalition government was formed to carry on the war and not to interfere with the government of Ireland and they strongly object to Mr. Campbell, who always has been prominent in anti-home rule agitation.

The project of pooling their salaries recently agreed to by the members of the new coalition ministry, by which each secretary draws yearly about $21,000, instead of some receiving $25,000 and others $10,000 or less, was sharply criticised in the house of commons during consideration of the salary of the minister of munitions.

Resolution Attacking Cabinet Rejected by Vote of 3 to 227.

Tokyo, June 9.—The attack of the opposition in the house reached a stage which bordered on violence. The opposition followed an unusually vigorous campaign, in which the "wet" advocates promised strict regulation of the liquor traffic.

AMERICAN POLICY TO BE UNYIELDING

Washington, June 9.—The policy of the United States toward Germany—an insistence on the observance of neutral rights and the safeguarding of the lives of Americans on the high seas—was determined finally at a cabinet session.

While no inkling as to the contents of the note was given, it is understood that an unfavorable reply will mean the severance of diplomatic relations with Germany and that attacks on Americans thereafter might lead to even grave consequences.

TROTS, HUGS, ETC., VULGAR

Dancing Masters to Devise New Step to Abolish Barbarous Types.

San Francisco, June 9.—The International Association of Dancing Masters, who began a six-day convention with demonstrations of new steps, has decided that the grizzly bear, turkey trot, bunny hug, the Argentine tango, glides, and all such things are vulgar and barbarous and must be abolished.

To assure this a new dance will be evolved by the sixty-five leading masters of the United States and Canada. The name of it will be announced tomorrow.

The new step is to be a "happy medium" between the fox trot, the canter waltz, the one step, and the old fashioned waltz and two step.

WOMEN'S PART IN INDEPENDENCE DAY

They Had Glorious Share In Winning American Liberty.

It has been said that in every woman's breast there lies the possibility of great heroism. What she can do when put to the test is amply illustrated by the events of history, not alone in our own country, but in all others.

Anecdotes of women of the Revolution, showing what they did and what they suffered in so doing, happy in the thought that they were serving the country they loved, are positively thrilling.

One wonders how many young women of today would offer themselves to carry a message from one army to another across a country fairly bristling with hostile troops when not a man could be found intrepid enough to take a letter from General Greene to General Sumter. Emily Geiger, a frail young girl, undertook the task and set out on horseback on a sidesaddle. She was intercepted on the second day of her journey by Lord Rawdon, who had her locked up until a Tory matron could be found to search her person.

ONE OF COLUMBIA'S DAUGHTERS.

By this unusual consideration Lord Rawdon lost his coveted information, for as soon as his back was turned she ate the letter, bit by bit! When eventually released she succeeded in reaching her destination, where she was able to give her message orally, if not in true military and documentary style. In consequence Sumter soon joined Greene's army. Emily later married a wealthy planter.

The fascinations of women have seldom been used to better advantage than upon a certain afternoon shortly after the retreat from New York, when a troop of British soldiers were detained at the house of a Mrs. Murray, who gave them cake and wine and such sprightly talk that they remained two hours—just long enough to allow General Putnam, the last to leave the city, to make retreat across the dangerous highroad on which the British were loitering. Think of the excitement of this little Quaker when she realized that by her subterfuge she had saved a part of the American army!

There is no doubt that we owe our present wealth and ease to the courage and resourcefulness of the early American woman quite as much as to the efforts of the men. She was the mother of those great men whose intellects were the backbone of the American nation. It was her sacrifice and nobility that made it possible for them to be what they were. Their lives are her eternal panegyric; their works the undying proclamation of her power.

FROM A JULY 4 SPEECH BY PRESIDENT WILSON.

Every patriotic American is a man who is not niggardly and selfish in the things he needs that make for human liberty and the rights of man, but wants to share it with the whole world. And he is never so proud of the great flag as when it means for other people as well as himself the symbol of liberty and freedom. I would be ashamed of this flag if it ever did anything outside of America that we would not permit it to do inside of America. We stand for the mass of the men, women and children who make up the vitality of every nation.

The world is becoming more complicated every day. Therefore no man ought to be foolish enough to think he understands it, and that is the reason why I am so glad to know there are some simple things in the world. One of those simple things is principle. Honesty is a perfectly simple thing—Woodrow Wilson.

CITY CAN'T GET BIDS FOR PAVING

ONLY ONE FIRM SUBMITTED OFFER LAST NIGHT.

BELIEVE PAVERS FEAR LOSS ON FIFTH STREET

Wabash Fight On Dunn Improvement and Postoffice Exemption Makes Contractors Wary.

The nineteen blocks of paving which the city has to award this spring does not appear to be the drawing card it was at first believed to be, judging from results so far. Twice have bids been called for, and each time the consideration of the proposition has had to be deferred on account of lack of bids. Last night it was that way.

The city council met in adjourned session last night especially to consider paving bids, only to find that only one bid was presented, and that only for part of the improvement planned. It was submitted by the Metropolitan Paving company of St. Joseph by Mr. Davis, representative. The lone bid included everything except on Fifth from Market to Dunn, seven blocks, and Dunn a half block.

Try Again June 18.

So the council decided to further postpone the matter until Friday night, June 18, to consider bids to be submitted on or before 7:30 o'clock that night. A greater effort to get bids will be made this time, both by advertising in local and construction and paving material journals, and also through individual solicitation if necessary.

Several reasons have been advanced for the failure of construction and paving companies to place bids for the Maryville paving. One is that the paving contractors have agreed to hold up the matter here until they complete work of a similar nature elsewhere, as the local contracts will specify that work must begin within thirty days after the contract is awarded.

But aside from that, no reason can be advanced for their failure to submit bids for the paving proposed on the various streets excepting on Fifth street. Two legal obstacles are brought up there as an excuse for the lack of interest shown by the pavers.

Who Pays Fronting Postoffice?

The St. Joseph firm which bid on all but that street last night, refused to place a bid for Fifth street, because no provision has been made for the improvement in front of the postoffice, it is said. The government is exempt from such expense.

Some provision will probably be made for eliminating that obstacle before June 18, when new bids are called for. How this will be done no city official could explain this morning.

Another obstacle on Fifth street is brought about by the fight the Wabash railroad made to block the improvement on the grounds that that portion of Dunn street between Fifth and Normal avenue included in the Fifth street paving ordinance is owned by the Wabash, and therefore is private property. It is believed pavers fear that the Wabash would try to evade payment for their part of the improvement, and therefore cause court litigation to collect the tax.

Would Pave Block on Jenkins.

A further move towards paving, however, was made when a resolution to pave Jenkins streets from Main to Market street, a distance of one block, was adopted by the council, and an ordinance passed to bring that block to an established grade.

If not more than a majority of the property owners on that block oppose, a bill will be later passed to assure the paving on that block. The improvement is especially urged by the trustees of the First Baptist church.

A happy reminder of his early school days in Mound City was presented to President Ira Richardson of the State Normal school in general convocation of students yesterday morning by S. W. The gift was a footstool made from parts of a school desk at which President Richardson is said to have sat during his school days in the Mound City schools. The best of it all is that many of the carvings made by President Richardson with his pocket knife are still intact in the foot stool.

The old seat was recovered by Skelton when the old school building there was recently torn down to make way for the newly constructed building. President Richardson graduated from the high school there in 1891.

BRYAN OFF STAFF

QUITS CABINET IN DISAGREEMENT OVER NOTE TO GERMANY.

LANSING TAKES PLACE

Chief Counselor Succeeds Nebraska Peace Exponent Temporarily—Wanted Arbitration Clause.

Washington, June 9.—William Jennings Bryan, three times Democratic candidate for the presidency of the United States and author of nearly thirty peace treaties with the principal nations of the world, returned to private life, his resignation as secretary of state taking effect today. His resignation came as a dramatic sequel to his disagreement with President Wilson over the government's policy toward Germany, and was accepted by the president.

The cabinet then approved the response which had been prepared to the German reply to the Lusitania note. Robert Lansing, counselor of the state department, who automatically became acting secretary of state, signed the document and it will be cabled to Berlin today.

It was learned that Mr. Bryan intends to continue his political support of the president. Rather than sign the document which he believed might possibly draw the United States into the war, Mr. Bryan submitted his resignation in a letter declaring that "the issue involved is of such moment that to remain a member of the cabinet would be as unfair to you as it would be to the cause which is nearest my heart, namely, the prevention of war."

The president accepted the resignation in a letter of regret, lined with deep personal feelings of affection. Comes Dramatically.

Dramatically the official relations of Mr. Bryan with the administration of the man whose nomination he assisted so materially in bringing about at the Baltimore convention of 1912 came to an end. It caused a sensation in the national capital scarcely paralleled in recent years. Ambassadors, ministers and diplomats from foreign lands, officials of every rank and station interpreted variously its effects on the delicate situation that had arisen between Germany and the United States. The resignation of the staunchest advocate of peace in the president's official family spread broadcast the belief that the policy of the United States definitely determined upon would assert and defend the rights of the United States in any eventuality that might arise.

Originally it was the intention of the president and Mr. Bryan to have the announcement of the resignation made simultaneously with the dispatch of the note to Germany, but when Mr. Bryan did not attend the cabinet meeting until President Wilson sent for him, rumors that the president had been unable to bring the secretary of state to his point of view filled the air. Finally the news leaked out and was confirmed.

The following is the text of Secretary Bryan's letter of resignation and that of President Wilson accepting it:

Bryan to Wilson.
My Dear Mr. President—It is with sincere regret that I have reached the conclusion that I should return to you the commission of secretary of state, with which you honored me at the beginning of your administration. "Obedient to your sense of duty and actuated by the highest motives you have prepared for transmission to the German government a note in which I cannot join without violating what I deem to be an obligation to my country and the issue involved is of such moment that to remain a member of the cabinet would be as unfair to you as it would be to the cause which is nearest my heart, namely, the prevention of war."

"I therefore respectfully tender my resignation, to take effect when the note is sent, unless you prefer an earlier hour. Alike desirous of reaching a peaceful solution of the problems arising out of the use of submarines against merchantmen we find ourselves differing irreconcilably as to the methods which should be employed."

"It falls to your lot to speak officially for the nation; I consider it to be nonetheless my duty to endeavor as a private citizen to promote the end which you have in view by means which you do not feel at liberty to use. In severing the intimate and pleasant relations which have existed between us during the last two years, permit me to acknowledge the profound satisfaction which it has given me to be associated with you in the important work which has come before the state department and to thank you for the courtesies extended."

"With the heartiest good wishes for your personal welfare and for the success of your administration, I am, my dear Mr. President, very truly yours, "W. J. BRYAN."

Wilson to Bryan.

"I accept your resignation only because you feel upon its acceptance."

NEW PAVING LAW IN SOON.

State Act Gives Cities Under 30,000 With Special Charters More Power.

The new paving law which applies to cities under special charter with a population of 30,000 or under, which was passed by the last legislature and approved March 23, will go into effect Saturday, June 19.

This gives cities of that size under special charter the right to order in paving where a connection can be made between two paved streets. In many instances those who favor paving on these streets are unable to get the required number of signers to the petition asking the council to order the paving and this new law was enacted to do away with this as the council can order in paving, providing the members of the council deem it necessary.

FARMER, BUSY MAN

RAINS DID MUCH GOOD, BUT DELAYED FARM WORK

WHEAT OUTLOOK GOOD

Pests Now to Deluge and Heads Are Well Filled—Good Stands of Corn Pastures Prolific.

You can't find busier persons just now than the farmer, his wife and son and daughter.

Held back earlier in the spring by a delayed arrival of warm, growing weather, and then just recently by the continued rains, the farmer and his whole family must knuckle down to the grindstone now with a redoubled effort and try to "catch up."

And everything is looking good along the highways just now. The earlier fear of chinch bugs and Hessian flies in the wheat has been downed, and the outlook at present in Nodaway county is for a good yield of wheat. The rains delayed farm work considerably and did some damage otherwise, but it was a blessing in disguise in many ways.

Wheat Pests Give Up.

The chinch bug strangled to death in the deluge and the prosperity and happiness of the Hessian fly was diminished to a remarkable degree.

The pastures are the best ever, though somewhat tender and "juicy," as a result of the extended rains. The grass is now getting nutritious and stock of all kinds is doing well, farmers in town today report. With the many rains, too, the subsoil for several feet down will be thoroughly soaked, so that should dry weather come later in the season the grass can grow on, getting nourishment from the stored up moisture below.

Many farmers were surprised, too, to discover after the deluge that the newly planted corn was not hurt so bad after all. The fear that rivulets would be cut down every row and the corn washed out, was groundless to a degree, though some was washed.

Get Good Stand of Corn.

Little corn rotted in the ground either, farmers here today say. Of course a percentage, but small, did rot as a result of the damp, chilly weather this spring, but that was to be expected. A good stand was secured most places.

The farmers now are getting into the corn fields with the "go-devil" and cultivator and some have had the second plowing already. Few really weedy fields are to be seen in a drive over the county.

Wheat will be ready for the harvest the latter part of the month, and the first of July, according to indications now. It will be quite stocky and the heads will contain more than the usual number of meshes, it is believed.

The peach crop will be small probably this year, in most orchards of Nodaway county, but not so with cherries, strawberries, blackberries and raspberries, nor apples, plums nor grapes. In fact all species of fruit will be plentiful except peaches, it is believed.

The red cherries are now seen every where, both in town and country and the luscious strawberry is lying still thick on the vines, very little damaged by the constant rains.

Plans for the sixth annual Harmony Home-Coming day, to be held at the Harmony church, near Ravenwood, Sunday, June 20, are under way by the Rev. C. R. Green, pastor, and other leaders in the community. The principal speaker will be C. D. Morris of St. Joseph, editor of the Gazette and a leader in civic movements.

The largest crowd ever is expected this year if the weather is favorable and the roads good at that time. A total of 2,265 persons attended last year.

There also will be several lectures by local talent and others and musical numbers and entertainment of various kinds will be provided for both in the morning and afternoon.

EXPECT CLOSE GAME TODAY

Expect Good Normal-Conception Match This Afternoon—Visitors Bring Rooters—The Line-Up.

The base ball game to start at the Normal grounds at 4 o'clock this afternoon between the Normal and Conception college is expected to be a close one, according to Coach Walter Hanson. The visitors arrived at about 3 o'clock this afternoon by automobiles and brought a bunch of rooters.

The team is considerably stronger than in the early part of the season, it is said. It is managed by A. B. Lahmen.

The Normal players are intending to put up a good fight for the honors this afternoon. The line-up was announced as follows: Lonnie Adams, p; "Doc" Miller, c; Powell, 1b; Vaughn, 2b; Alvey, 3b; Ed Adams, ss; Vandersloot, lf; probably Campbell, cf; Samuel Long, rf.

Some of the players for today's game have had little training this season, as they take the place of the student players who left for the summer.

TWO FINISH BUSINESS COURSE.

Will Receive Diplomas at Annual High School Commencement Tonight.

Miss Genie Marie Aley of this city and Miss Irene Elizabeth Growney of Conception finished the work this year in the business department of St. Patrick's parish school and will be graduated from that division at the annual commencement exercises to be held tonight at St. Patrick's church. Nine high school students will receive graduation diplomas tonight. The address to the graduates will be made by Attorney T. A. Cummins and the diplomas will be presented by the Rev. Father Henry F. Niemann.

To Visit at Ravenwood.

Mrs. J. M. Hughes of West Twelfth street left this afternoon for Ravenwood, where she will spend several weeks visiting at the Joel Trullinger and Charles Evans homes.

TO PLAY HOPKINS SUNDAY.

Federals to Meet East County Nine—Plan to Strengthen Team.

The Federals, formerly the All-Stars, will play the Hopkins base ball team at Federal park, west of the city limits, next Sunday afternoon, beginning at 3 o'clock, according to announcement made today by Cleve Funk, manager. It was originally intended to bring the Athletics of St. Joseph here.

The Hopkins nine is a strong one this year and defeated the All Stars at Hopkins recently, and Creston, Ia., last Sunday by a close score. It is directed by Prof. A. C. Thomas, an expert player who tried out with the Western league last season. A brother, "Frosty" Thomas, played with St. Joseph Western league team last year.

The Federals plan to materially strengthen their team before Sunday. Frank Ham will pitch as usual, while Delma Carmichael will receive. Charles Carmichael has been signed for outfield work this season. He will likely play in the left garden Sunday.

THE WEATHER

Partly cloudy with probably showers tonight or Thursday; rising temperature.

MANY ON GUINEA DAY BOOSTER TRIP

FORTY FIVE WIRES TOUR EAST SIDE OF COUNTY TODAY.

SOLICIT PATRONAGE OF FARMERS ON WAY

Enthusiasts Stop Enroute to Get Acquainted and Advertise Special Sales June 16.

With the band playing and everybody rooting for Maryville, a delegation of about forty boosters in fourteen automobiles rolled out of the city at 10 o'clock this morning on a swing around the east half of Nodaway county to advertise Guinea day here Wednesday, June 16. Optimism and enthusiasm reigned supreme and each appeared wide awake to the cause for which he is going.

The tourists were led by Theo Robinson, pilot, in his roadster, followed by several cars containing the members of the Maryville Commercial band. The first stop was made at Pickering, where the boosters were given a royal welcome and each used every moment in shaking hands and getting acquainted.

From there the tourists went to Hopkins, where luncheon was served, and thence began the swing to the east and south, taking in succession Gaynor City, Orsberg, Parnell, Ravenwood, Clyde, Conception, Conception Junction, Guilford, Barnard, Arkow, and then home.

Some Join Them Enroute.

The tourists were joined at Parnell by J. P. Hull, Judge W. C. Ellison and party and James A. Ford and party. At Conception, C. C. Hellmers joined in and several cars were added enroute, they being persons living in the towns through which the tourists passed.

Fairly good roads were found this morning on the north and northeast circuit. A few mud holes and rough spots were encountered, of course, but on the whole the cars sped along nicely.

Besides making the acquaintance of the townspeople on the trip, many farm houses along the way were visited by parties in one or more cars and the publicity for Guinea day was plentifully supplied by both voice and bulletins and posters.

Each of the automobiles used on the trip are posted with banners and each is numbered.

The first accident of the trip was encountered by Marve Peery and Nat Sisson, when their car broke down five miles north of town, and had not joined them when the bunch reached Hopkins.

Much boosting was done in Pickering and Hopkins and likewise fun and comedy were inserted in some profession. At Pickering the jokers grabbed Mayor Wright and placed him in jail, until the trip was resumed from there. The boosters arrived at Hopkins shortly before noon and took dinner at Parnell, slightly behind the schedule time.

These Made Up "Special."

The following persons made up the "boosters' special" when it left the station in front of the Commercial club rooms at 10 o'clock this morning, just an hour behind schedule: Dr. James Felix, Theo Robinson and Homer Shipp, in Robinson's roadster, M. C. Curfman, J. H. Gray, Blanche Gray and Hazel Vandervoort; M. A. Peery and Nat Sisson in a roadster; Dr. K. R. Malotte and F. R. Marcell in Dr. Malotte's roadster; Thad Wilderman and family in Wilderman's car; John Behm with portion of band; Mayor U. S. Wright, Sheriff Edwin Wallace, Chief of Police E. C. Moberly, Roy White and Mayor Wright's son in the mayor's car; Frank Barnann, George Conrad and family; Louis DeHart and W. R. Jackson in DeHart's roadster; William Everhart and family; Ed Gray, Peter Dietz, Bert Raines, Dick Hotchkiss and Gus Athans.

The following members of the band accompanied the boosters: T. B. Maulding, director; Seph Clark, Harold Maulding, Arch Webber, Marlow Minter, Paul Basford, Ed Rea, N. A. Williamson and Prof. Jones with the Chase-Lister band.

The second trip in advertising Guinea day here June 16, and also to get acquainted with the patrons of the county, will be taken tomorrow to the west side of the county. It will include the following towns in order: Wilcox, Clearmont, Elmo, Dawson, Burlington Junction, Quitman, Skidmore, Maitland, Graham and then home. Dinner will probably be taken at Burlington Junction.

RAIN WASHED OFF POLLEN?

Reported That Wheat Crop is Hurt by Bloom Being Destroyed.

A new crop killer has been found.
This time it is the rain which has done the damage and wheat is the victim.

A wheat grower near Columbia says
the heavy rains recently have washed the pollen from the wheat, and that as a result there will be little wheat raised in this country this season. He says the rains have resulted in the propagating powers of the grain being killed.

BRYAN OFF STAFF

and I accept it with much more than decent regret with a feeling of personal sorrow. Our two years of close association have been very delightful to me. Our judgments have accorded in practically every matter of official duty and public policy until now;
your support of the work and purposes of the administration has been generous and loyal beyond praise, your devotion to the duties of your great office and your eagerness to take advantage of every great opportunity for service it offered has been an example to the rest of us; you have earned our affectionate admiration and friendship. Even now we are not separated in the object which we seek, but only in the methods by which we seek it.

"It is for these reasons my feeling about your retirement from the secretaryship of state goes so much deeper than regret. I sincerely deplore it.

"Our objects are the same and we ought to pursue them together. I yield to your desire or I because I must and wish to bid you goodbye in the parting. We shall continue to work for the same causes even when we do not work in the same way.

"With affectionate regard, sincerely yours, WOODROW WILSON."

In No Hurry to Name Successor.

Robert Lansing, successor to John Bassett Moore as counselor of the
state department, became secretary of state ad interim today, when Secretary Bryan's resignation took effect.
He is a life-long Democrat and son-in-
law of J. W. Foster, who was secretary of state under President Harrison. He has been an international lawyer for many years.

While there is much gossip already
as to President Wilson's probable selection for the secretaryship, it is the
president's plan to make no immediate appointment. It would not be surprising if he made no change in the
present status of the department's
personnel for two or three months.

Secretary Franklin K. Lane of the interior department has been frequently mentioned as a possible successor to Secretary Bryan, but the belief exists that he will not be chosen
on account of his Canadian birth and
the fact that the president would find
considerable difficulty in finding a man to take over Mr. Lane's important work on the Alaskan railway and
other projects of the interior.

Expert Advice For the Automobile Owner

Queries and Replies Covering Matters of Importance to the Man Who Runs a Car

How will incorrect wiring affect a motor?

The effect of incorrect wiring on the
motor depends on how the wires are
misplaced. For instance, if the high tension cables were changed around so
that no one of them went to the right
plug it would be impossible to run the motor, although an occasional explosion might be obtained. If two or three of the high tension wires were
interchanged, but one or more were
left on the correct plugs, then the
motor would run on the cylinders in which the latter were. Where a dual system is employed the wires of a battery system may sometimes be
misplaced without interfering with the
operation of the magneto and vice versa. As a rule, however, the changing of the wires will result in the
whole ignition system becoming inop-
erative.

Does an engine deliver more or less
power to wheels with a friction trans-
mission and chain drive than through
the ordinary bevel gears?

The efficiencies of the sliding gear-
set with the shaft drive and the friction transmission with chain drive are
approximately equal on the higher
gear ratios, but when the friction
wheel is brought near the center of
the disk the slippage of the inside
edge of the wheel, due to the small
circle it is traveling on, causes a power
loss that is greater than when the
low gear of the sliding gear set is engaged.

Assuming that an automobile stands
in a garage 30 per cent out of each
twenty-four hours, what would be the
saving in casing expense providing the
car was put on jacks and kept off the
tires during the time it was not in use?

The amount of money you might
save by jacking up the wheels when
the car is not in use is too small to be measured, providing there is no oil or
water on the garage floor that might
cause the rubber to deteriorate. The reduction in pressure and consequent lessened strain on the casings when this is done is almost infinitesimal, although it is popularly supposed that
relieving the tires from the burden of
supporting the car must necessarily
relieve them from just that much
strain and that therefore they will
wear longer if the car is jacked up.
The reduction in pressure when this is
done is exactly inversely proportional
to the increase in volume of the tube.
When the tire is supporting the car
weight it flattens slightly and one
might say, imperceptibly, if the tires
are pumped up as hard as they should
be. The flattening of the tire causes a small decrease in the volume of the air
in the tube and therefore when the tire
is raised off the ground it regains its
normal shape and normal volume. It
is obvious that this small change in
volume will not affect the pressure to
any extent, since the decrease in pressure is inversely proportional to the increase in volume. And since the decrease in pressure is almost incom-
mensurable the lessened strain and
consequent saving in tire cost is incalculable.

Is there any good preparation for polishing the body of an automobile which
will not harm the varnish or paint?

It is not advisable to use polish of
any sort on the body. If the finish has become dull have the body revarnished.
The only rejuvenator worthy of consideration is soap and water, and some
body makers condemn the soap, advising the use of water only. However,
there is little harm in using lukewarm
water and soap, provided the soap is
not too strong. In cleaning the body
first wash the dust off with a hose and
do not apply a sponge or cloth until
the dust has been removed and the mud softened. Then sponge the body
with soap and water and finally rinse
with a hose until the soapy water has
been entirely removed. Then wipe dry with cloths. If this advice is followed there will be no need of using
any body polish, as the varnish will
hold its luster almost indefinitely.

The brake on my car has been dragging for some time. Will this cause
the tire to wear more rapidly?

Inasmuch as the dragging brake re-
tards the free movement of the wheel,
the tire is made to wear out more quickly than normally. Especially is
this so when the brake is applied. The principal detriment, however, lies in
the increased work imposed on the
motor, which causes it to heat quickly.

Our car has a unit power plant using one grade of oil for crank case,
multiple disk clutch and gear set. The
oil system is circulating splash with
pump. Can we use graphite in our power plant? If so, how much graphite to the gallon of cylinder oil, and
what make?

Use one teaspoonful of flake graphite
to each quart of oil. Do not throw
the graphite in loose, but mix it into
a soft paste first and then add it to the
oil. In buying the graphite be careful
to obtain a good motor graphite as
some graphites are not suited for motor lubrication. Some are too coarse,
others too fine and some contain grit.
Therefore, be certain you obtain a good
motor graphite.

"America."

The air of "America," as is well known, is that of England's national
anthem, "God Save the King." As
such it has been in use since the middle of the last century.

In 1832 Dr. S. F. Smith came upon
it in a book of German music and on
the spur of the moment wrote the
words we sing to the hymn "America." This was at Andover, Mass. It was sung for the first time publicly at a children's celebration at Park Street church, Boston, on the Fourth of July in that year.

Mrs. Cecile Storr, said to be of unsound mind by her son, J. Arthur
Storr, a student at Conception college,
Conception, who walked 1,000 miles,
alone and unaided, to visit her son,
was in Maryville today, accompanied
by the son, to appeal to the county
court for free return transportation.
The visit was futile, however, as the
county court is making a bridge tour
today.

The first notice the county court had
of the alleged mental condition of Mrs.
Storr was in April, when the son
asked that the court send her to some institution. She is 59 years old. The
court declares she is not a bona fide county resident and not entitled to assistance.

She is said to have walked from Seattle, Wash., to Conception last year
and now wants railroad fare back to Seattle.

SUGGESTIONS FOR ROAD DAYS

What Highway Engineer Buffum Advises Road Overseers to Do on June 15 and 16.

Pictures of good roads in Missouri
have been sent to movie picture theaters in all parts of the state by Highway Commissioner Frank W. Buffum
with the request that they be used
this week to advertise the importance
of organization and preparation for
the two good road days, June 15 and 16 says the St. Louis Republic.

In a letter sent to overseers and other road officials Commissioner Buffum
urges that the utmost publicity be given
to the movement.

"The success of good roads days,"
he says, "has been shown in the past
to have been secured through proper
publicity. Publicity should be given
this week and next week in all the
newspapers."

"It also would be advisable to have
large posters put up over your district. Further, see that the matter is urged by the clergy in all the churches.
Good roads days mean much to
churches and schools."

Here are a few things Commissioner
Buffum suggests that the overseers
and the committee should look after
particularly:

Widen roads to at least the standard
width of 40 feet. Get the people along narrow roads to permit fences being
moved back.

Cut all hedges to the legal height of
five feet and remove all obstructions 150 feet on either approach to a turn
in the road.

Concrete culverts should not be less
than 20 feet in length, and where concrete is not available put in permanent culverts of other material.

Grade roads for gravel or stone or
for dragging.

Fill in the deep side ditches on road
Grade down all small hills.

Clean out all the side ditches on the
roads so they will drain and not over-
flow, and throw the water in the center of the road after a big rain.

All loose rocks should be removed from the roads and hills and throw
into holes or other places.

Water breaks are not often necessary, for a road well rounded does not
need them. If local conditions do require they be put in and where they applies they should be made with a gradual slope of at least 10 feet in wide
on the top, making them easier to cross
and not so dangerous to traffic.

Reduce grades on hills as much as possible. It is better to go around the hills wherever possible.

Commissioner Buffum further suggests that every piece of road building
machinery should be overhauled and
put in first class order for the two
days.

If wheat harvest should be in progress on the days set for the road work
he suggests that the people postpone
the road work until about the middle
of July, but not to do so unless it is imperative to do so, as the highway
department would like to have the
work done as much as possible on the
two days selected by the governor.

He concludes with this advice:
"Work on the automobilist. He is always interested in good roads, but
the farmer is the man we are really
aiming to help."

A Recent U. S. Government Report Makes plain your need of

UNITED STATES CREAM SEPARATORS

The skimming device of which is GUARANTEED
NEVER TO RUST

The scientific staff of the dairy division in the United States Department of Agriculture recently
conducted a series of experiments to learn what effect, if
any, iron (rust) has on cream and butter.

The tests definitely established the fact that even minute
particles of iron (rust) caused certain undesirable flavors
and that in every instance when butter was scored a few days
after the making, the samples in which iron (rust) was
present scored lower than the butter
made from cream which contained no
iron (rust).

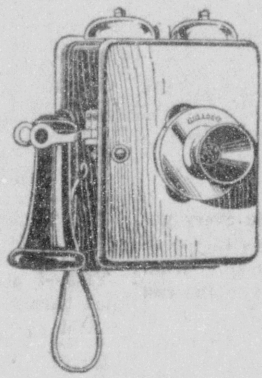

In using the United States Cream Separator
with non-rusting skimming sections of nickel silver
you avoid all risk of cream or butter with an "off"
odor or flavor. The U. S. Sections are positively guaranteed never to rust. No other separator
manufacturer gives you a printed non-rusting
guarantee.

Yet, United States Cream Separators with this
big exclusive improvement are sold at no higher prices than other separators without it.

Drop into our store and see this splendid Separator.

To Publish Unclaimed Deposits.

Missouri bankers will have to make known should they have any unclaimed deposits for five years, according to the new banking law. It has not been an uncommon thing for a deposit to be made and forgotten about. Such forgotten deposits have often come to light in the settlement of estates. The new law makes it mandatory for the cashier to send a list of unclaimed deposits for five years to the secretary of state who shall publish such a list in certain newspapers of the state. Better inquire of the bankers—you might have some money you have forgotten.

The Rev. Thomas C. Middleton, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Burlington Junction, will give the principal address at the special Flag day services of the Elks club at St. Joseph next Monday night at the club rooms.

RODE FOR LIBERTY
LIKE PAUL REVERE

Caesar Rodney Is One of America's Independence Day Heroes.

HOW the historians and romantics have missed the true and dramatic story of Caesar Rodney's ride is one of the mysteries which surround the Declaration of Independence.

Thomas McKean, one of the three signers of the Declaration from Delaware, has given unassailable proof of the essential facts in the case of Caesar Rodney and his ride. According to letters written by him and particularly one to Caesar Rodney's nephew, McKean sent word by a horseman to Rodney, who was then ill at Byfield, one of his farms near Dover, Del., that his vote was absolutely necessary if freedom was to be proclaimed.

Pennsylvania and South Carolina had voted against independence. New York held aloof because her delegates had not received instructions from the assembly of that colony. Congress was in turmoil, the army panic stricken, the sentiment for submission to Great Britain growing stronger hourly in all the colonies. It was necessary that all the colonies should vote in the affirmative if independence was to be proclaimed.

In the vote that was taken in the statehouse (now Independence hall) on July 1 Delaware's vote was not cast, there being two of the three delegates present. Thomas McKean voted for freedom and George Read against it. Caesar Rodney, as has been said, was ill in his home. His affliction was a cancer, that had attacked his face to such an extent that he was compelled to wear a veil to conceal the fearful ravages of the disease. For this reason he had never married. The malady had progressed for four years at the time of these occurrences.

McKean, shrewdly calculating that if Delaware's vote were cast for independence on the following day Pennsylvania and South Carolina might be induced to change their decisions, determined upon the desperate expedient of sending for his sick and cruelly disfigured colleague. Estimating at its true worth the patriotism and determination of Rodney, he instructed the messenger to arrange at his (McKean's) expense relays of horses to carry Rodney on his ride of seventy miles.

In spite of the terrific heat, the urging of relatives and the command of a nurse and a physician, who warned him the task might mean death, the patriotic Delawarean arose from his sickbed and set out for Philadelphia with the messenger. So eager and determined was he that his companion was soon left behind, and Rodney rode alone through the torture of that blistering July weather.

McKean relates that he met Rodney at the statehouse door as he dismounted and assisted him into the chamber. There, with the remnant of his strength, Caesar Rodney cast the vote of Delaware for independence.

It is McKean again, corroborated by Adams, Franklin and others, who relates that Edward Rutledge of South Carolina thereupon was deeply moved and changed the vote of his colony. After a stormy scene the Pennsylvania delegates who were opposed to the resolution declaring liberty removed themselves from the congress, and the patriotic faction, with Benjamin Franklin at its head, promptly cast the colony's ballot for independence.

The terrible strain of the ride told severely for a time upon Caesar Rodney, but he rallied and lived a few years longer, dying at Byfield in 1784 a serene, courageous death in his forty-sixth year.

Of all the signers of the Declaration Caesar Rodney is the only one of whom there is no portrait. The late Thomas F. Bayard of Delaware, United States senator and secretary of state, was one of those who held the opinion that a portrait showing his veiled face would appeal strongly to the patriotism of the American people. John Adams has given an excellent description of Rodney in one of his letters to his wife. He shows the patriot as tall and excessively thin, due to the malady that killed him. His head, according to Adams, was abnormally small, scarcely larger than two big apples. His manner was gentle and kindly, but deeply impressive when he was aroused. He looked upon death cheerfully, walking with it always. His patriotism was of the highest quality and his statesmanship remarkable for its plain, homely sense—Philadelphia Press.

Dixie Turning to Fireworks.

The most notable feature of the fireworks business, dealers say, has been the creation of a demand in recent years for fireworks in the south for use on July 4. The fact that the south is beginning to take up in the conventional way the celebration of the nation's birth points very strongly, they believe, to the undermining of the last sectional differences. The demand this year has been far larger than ever before, they say. One northern fireworks firm recently received its first order from Florida, while another has been shipping large quantities to North Carolina and other southern states. Heretofore Christmas and New Year's have been the "noisy" days of the south. Baltimore always celebrated with fireworks, but not very vigorously, and across the Potomac the Fourth of July was as serene and noiseless as any other day.

ADVERTISING is today the mightiest factor in the business world. It is an evolution of modern industrial competition. It is a business builder, with a potency that goes beyond human desire. It is something more than a "drummer" knocking at the door of the consumer—something more than mere salesmanship-on-paper. It is a positive, creative force in business. It builds factories, sky-scrapers and railroads. It makes two blades of grass grow in the business world where only one grew before. It multiplies human wants and intensifies human desires. It furnishes excuse to timorous and hesitating ones for possessing the things which under former conditions they could easily get along without. Better begin to advertise at once. Every day of waiting is a day wasted.

Who Wins In The War?

The stupendous destructions of property and the loss of life in this greatest of wars fairly staggers the imagination. Master minds that were once turned to the finest of commercial development now are used in engineering the death campaigns.

Advertising, the most powerful of business builders, is now even used in the business of war. Soldiers are called into fighting ranks by advertising. Warring nations advocate their principle to the neutral nations by advertising and the people are trained to greater national spirit through advertising.

Just the same as in peace advertising accomplishes powerful results. It is helping nations to greater efforts in the war. It may even help them to win. Who wins in the war? This is not of the most vital concern to us.

Our own businesses growing stronger through new demands require our attention. Our own work goes on. It must go on.

Advertising, a powerful weapon of business and even of war, is our ally.

Let's use it in building our businesses.

AMERICAN POLICY TO BE UNYIELDING

Washington, June 9.—The policy of the United States toward Germany—an insistence on the observance of neutral rights and the safeguarding of the lives of Americans on the high seas—was determined finally at a cabinet session.

While no inkling as to the contents of the note was given, it is understood that an unfavorable reply will mean the severance of diplomatic relations with Germany and that attacks on Americans thereafter might lead to even grave consequences.

Miss Mary Carpenter left this afternoon for Graham, where she will visit Miss Bettie Gex and Miss Loretta Gex.

NEW CABINET STRIKES SNAG

Irish Oppose Campbell as Chancellor of Dublin University.

TORIES INSIST HE GET PLACE.

Carson and Other Unionists Likely to Leave Ministry if Campbell Passed By—Pooling of Salaries Attacked in House of Commons.

WAR SUMMARY

Although there has been fighting at various points along the western line, it is still in the east that the great conflict continues. In the Galician sector the Austro-Germans are keeping up their drive of the Russians eastward. Advancing from Przemyśl the German general's, Von Linsingen, forces now have reached Lubaczow, which lies forty miles northeast of the recaptured Austrian fortress, while other Tauton armies have made additional advances south of the Dniester and along the Pruth.

London, June 9.—The difficulty of filling the office of lord chancellor of Ireland has not yet been overcome. The Unionists urge the appointment of James H. M. Campbell, Unionist member of the house of commons, for the chancellorship of Dublin university, but the Nationalists strongly oppose this on account of Mr. Campbell's Ulster sympathies.

The Nationalists passed a resolution, on the motion of John Dillon, declaring against conscription. The resolution stated that compulsory military service is needless and that an attempt to enforce it would break up the unity of the United Kingdom.

The cabinet met to consider the situation, but apparently no decision was arrived at. It is rumored that if the appointment of Mr. Campbell is withdrawn, as a result of Nationalist threats, Sir Edward Carson will resign as attorney general and that perhaps other members of the new coalition ministry will give up their portfolios.

The Nationalist contention is that the coalition government was formed to carry on the war and not to interfere with the government of Ireland and they strongly object to Mr. Campbell, who always has been prominent in anti-home rule agitation.

The project of pooling their salaries recently agreed to by the members of the new coalition ministry, by which each secretary draws yearly about $21,000, instead of some receiving $25,000 and others $10,000 or less, was sharply criticized in the house of commons during consideration of the salary of the minister of munitions.

NEAR RIOT IN JAP HOUSE

Resolution Attacking Cabinet Rejected by Vote of 3 to 227.

Tokyo, June 9.—The attack of the opposition in the house reached a stage which bordered on violence. The opposition was defeated, however, the house rejecting by a vote of 3 to 227 the resolution attacking the cabinet on the ground of interference with the recent general election.

The Saykwal, or Constitutional party, protested at a ruling of Saburo Shimada, president of the house. The members of this party rushed the speaker's chair and then left the chamber in a body, breaking through the guards whom Mr. Shimada ordered to close the doors. The Kokuminto, or Popular party, remained in the chamber, but declined to vote.

The commotion was started by the speech of an opposition member, who charged that the ministry interfered in the election of certain members of the house.

TROTS, HUGS, ETC., VULGAR

Dancing Masters to Devise New Step to Abolish Barbarous Types.

San Francisco, June 9.—The International Association of Dancing Masters, who began a six-day convention with demonstrations of new steps, has decided that the grizzly bear, turkey trot, bunny hug, the Argentine tango, glides, and all such things are vulgar and barbarous and must be abolished.

To assure this a new dance will be evolved by the sixty-five leading masters of the United States and Canada. The name of it will be announced tomorrow.

The new step is to be a "happy medium" between the fox trot, the canter waltz, the one step, and the old fashioned waltz and two step.

WOMEN'S PART IN INDEPENDENCE DAY

They Had Glorious Share In Winning American Liberty.

It has been said that in every woman's breast there lies the possibility of great heroism. What she can do when put to the test is amply illustrated by the events of history, not alone in our own country, but in all others.

Anecdotes of women of the Revolution, showing what they did and what they suffered in so doing, happy in the thought that they were serving the country they loved, are positively thrilling.

One wonders how many young women of today would offer themselves to carry a message from one army to another across a country fairly bristling with hostile troops when not a man could be found intrepid enough to take a letter from General Greene to General Sumter. Emily Geiger, a frail young girl, undertook the task and set out on horseback on a sidesaddle. She was intercepted on the second day of her journey by Lord Rawdon, who had her locked up until a Tory matron could be found to search her person.

ONE OF COLUMBIA'S DAUGHTERS.

By this unusual consideration Lord Rawdon lost his coveted information, for as soon as his back was turned she let the letter, bit by bit! When eventually released she succeeded in reaching her destination, where she was able to give her message orally, if not in true military and documentary style. In consequence Sumter soon joined Greene's army. Emily later married a wealthy planter.

The fascinations of women have seldom been used to better advantage than upon a certain afternoon shortly after the retreat from New York, when a troop of British soldiers were detained at the house of a Mrs. Murray, who gave them cake and wine and who sprightly talk that they remained two hours—just long enough to allow General Putnam, the last to leave the city, to make retreat across the dangerous highroad on which the British were loitering. Think of the excitement of this little Quaker when she realized that by her subterfuge she had saved a part of the American army!

There is no doubt that we owe our present wealth and ease to the courage and resourcefulness of the early American woman quite as much as to the efforts of the men. She was the mother of those great men whose intellects were the backbone of the American nation. It was her sacrifice and nobility that made it possible for them to be what they were. Their lives are her eternal panegyric; their works the undying proclamation of her power.

FROM A JULY 4 SPEECH BY PRESIDENT WILSON.

Every patriotic American is a man who is not niggardly and selfish in the things he needs that make for human liberty and the rights of man, but wants to share it with the whole world. And he is never so proud of the great flag as when it means for other people as well as himself the symbol of liberty and freedom. I would be ashamed of this flag if it ever did anything outside of America that we would not permit it to do inside of America. We stand for the mass of the men, women and children who make up the vitality of every nation.

The world is becoming more complicated every day. Therefore no man ought to be foolish enough to think he understands it, and that is the reason why I am so glad to know there are some simple things in the world. One of those simple things is principle. Honesty is a perfectly simple thing—Woodrow Wilson.
